ISSUE: REGULATION OR DEREGULATION

We learn in our classrooms against the continued increase of the prices of petroleum products.

THIS IS THE PRIMARY REASON WHY COPW HAS HAD SECOND THOUGHTS ON THE ISSUE OF REGULATION OR DEREGULATION.

We are affected by the price of oil in the world market. The answer lies in fact. What we cannot afford not to understand is the subsequent development of diesel and gasoline prices. FAST AND LARGE INCREASES, SLOW AND SMALL DOLLBACKS.

The DOE, when it looked to support in the public if the prices are too, has repeatedly said that they cannot do anything except to allow in the marketplace of "free market forces" because of the current EIS (Energy Information System). Notwithstanding the subsequent provisions within the law.

COPW IS CONVINCED THAT THE FASTEST WAY TO REMOVE THE ISSUE IS TO ASK CONGRESS TO AMEND THE OIL DEREGULATION LAW TO ADDRESS THE FOLLOWING:

1. Strengthen the regulatory provisions built into Chapter III of the law particularly Sec. 42 (a) by mandating the DOE-DOJ Task Force to monitor the volume and value of all inventories as they arrive and for the Bureau of Customs and the SPS to ensure that the correct duties and taxes are paid.
2. Give the DOE-DOJ Task Force inform the public whether an oil price increase or decrease is justified and is fair.
3. Give Congress complete authority over the DOE-DOJ Task Force if they do not comply. It has been noted that the DOE-DOJ Task Force has been inactive in implementing the provision for the past 11 years.

COPW URGES CONGRESS TO PASS THESE AMENDMENTS BEFORE THE END OF THE MONTH. OUR CONSUMERS, MOTORISTS, TRANSPORT GROUPS, AND THE RIDING PUBLIC WILL BE GREATLY BENEFITED AND WILL BE THANKFUL.

WE WANT YOUR FEEDBACK

The demand within Britain for a more radical approach to the economy was not limited to the left. The Conservative Party's 1979 election manifesto, The New Deal, was a landmark document in the history of British conservatism. It was a response to the economic crisis of the early 1970s, and it marked a turning point in the party's history. The manifesto was written by the then Conservative Party leader, Margaret Thatcher, and it set out a new vision for the country. It was a document that was both bold and controversial, and it was a document that was both a reflection of the times and a catalyst for change.

Figure 1 illustrates the experimental setup. A subject is seated at a table, viewing a video screen. A camera is positioned above the screen. A target is located on the screen. A horizontal line is drawn on the screen, representing the target location. The subject's hand is positioned at the starting point. The distance between the starting point and the target is labeled as 'Distance'. The distance between the starting point and the video screen is labeled as 'Distance to screen'. The distance between the video screen and the target is labeled as 'Distance to target'.

Figure 1: Schematic representation of the experimental design. The diagram shows a sequence of events: 'Preparation' (with 'Preparation time' and 'Preparation time limit' labels), 'Start' (with 'Start time' and 'Start time limit' labels), and 'End' (with 'End time' and 'End time limit' labels). A central box labeled 'Task' is connected to these stages. A legend indicates that 'Preparation time' is represented by a blue box and 'Start time' by a red box.

Sandiganbayan suspends Lucena mayor, councilor

MANILA, July 11 (AP) — The Sandiganbayan, the Philippines' anti-graft court, has suspended the mayor and a councilor of Lucena City for alleged graft and corruption. The court's decision comes after a long-running investigation into the alleged misappropriation of public funds by the city's top officials. The mayor, who has been in office for several years, is accused of diverting city funds for personal use and for engaging in unauthorized transactions. The councilor is also accused of similar offenses. The suspension is a temporary measure while the court conducts its proceedings. The city government has expressed its disappointment with the decision and has vowed to cooperate with the court's investigation.

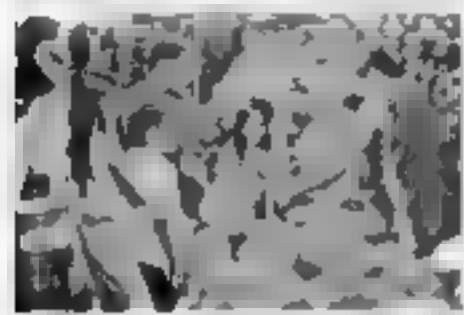

Lucena Mayor

Councilor

The Sandiganbayan's decision is a significant blow to the city government, as it removes key officials from their posts. The court's findings, if proven true, would be a major scandal for the city. The mayor and councilor have both denied the allegations and claim that they have acted in the best interests of the city. They have also expressed their willingness to face the court's judgment. The Sandiganbayan is expected to continue its investigation and may issue further orders regarding the suspension of the officials.

Gov't relaxes tax rules for RP groups

MANILA, July 11 (AP) — The Philippine government has announced a relaxation of tax rules for registered political parties and other groups. The new rules are designed to encourage political participation and to reduce the financial burden on these organizations. Under the new regulations, groups will be able to receive tax exemptions on certain types of income and property. The government hopes that these changes will lead to a more vibrant and competitive political environment. The relaxation of tax rules is part of a broader effort to reform the political system and to promote transparency and accountability. The government is also working to strengthen the legal framework for political parties and to ensure that they are subject to the same rules as other organizations.

Indo. Nat. German cities cite for good governance

MANILA, July 11 (AP) — The Indonesian National German Cities Association has announced a list of cities that have been recognized for good governance. The list includes several cities in Indonesia, which have been praised for their commitment to transparency, accountability, and efficient service delivery. The association, which is a non-profit organization, aims to promote good governance practices and to provide a platform for cities to share their experiences. The recognition is a significant achievement for the cities, as it highlights their efforts to improve their governance and to serve their citizens better. The association will continue to work with the cities to support their efforts and to provide them with the resources and expertise they need to succeed.

BSP seen keeping rates steady until early 2010

Economic growth prospects slightly up, pick in inflation

MANILA, Philippines — The Philippine central bank, the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP), is expected to keep its benchmark interest rate steady at 7.5 percent until early 2010, according to a report by the International Monetary Fund (IMF) released last week.

The IMF report, which is the latest in a series of assessments of the Philippine economy, notes that the BSP has been successful in maintaining price stability and controlling inflation. It also highlights the bank's efforts to strengthen the financial system and improve the quality of supervision.

However, the report also points out that the Philippine economy is still facing challenges, particularly in the areas of growth and employment. It suggests that the BSP should continue to monitor the situation closely and be prepared to adjust its policy if necessary.

Housing as economic stimulus

MANILA, Philippines — The Philippine government is expected to launch a new housing program to stimulate economic growth and create jobs. The program, which is part of the government's broader economic recovery plan, aims to provide affordable housing for low-income families.

The government has allocated a significant portion of its budget for the program, and it is expected to start construction soon. The program will involve the construction of new housing units, as well as the renovation of existing ones.

The government hopes that the program will not only provide shelter for its citizens but also create a large number of jobs in the construction industry. It is also expected to boost the demand for building materials and services.

BMX seizes, forfeits tax-free diesel

MANILA, Philippines — The Bureau of Maritime Exchange (BMX) has seized and forfeited a large quantity of tax-free diesel fuel. The fuel was found on board a ship that was suspected of smuggling the fuel into the country.

The BMX officials stated that the fuel was intended for use in the maritime industry, but it was found to be tax-free, which is illegal. The fuel was seized at a port in Manila.

The BMX is currently investigating the case and has issued a warrant for the arrest of the ship's captain. The fuel is being stored in a secure facility until it can be disposed of properly.

Figure 1. Schematic diagram of the experimental setup. The subject is seated in a chair, viewing a screen displaying a target. The target is a vertical line with a horizontal bar at the top. The subject's hand is positioned at the bottom of the screen, ready to move towards the target. The screen is divided into two regions: a central region and a peripheral region. The central region is defined by a vertical line and a horizontal bar. The peripheral region is defined by a vertical line and a horizontal bar. BSP holds on to current monetary policies

Not yet time to change course, says Guingundo

By Richard T. Gomez

Manila, Sept. 1 (AP) —

The Philippine central bank said Monday it has no intention of changing its monetary policy, despite the fact that the peso has fallen to a record low against the dollar. Governor Roberto S. Quinsigando said the bank will continue to maintain its current policy of maintaining a target range for the peso's value against the dollar, which is currently at a record low of 48.50 pesos per dollar. He said the bank will continue to monitor the situation closely and will be ready to take action if necessary.

Invest in clean energy, Napueco urges firms

By Ben S. Lopez

MANILA, Sept. 1 (AP) — The Philippine government is urging firms to invest in clean energy, according to a report by the Department of Energy. The report says that the government is looking for private sector investment in renewable energy sources such as solar, wind, and hydro. It also mentions that the government is providing incentives for firms that invest in clean energy. The report also mentions that the government is looking for private sector investment in renewable energy sources such as solar, wind, and hydro. Bible of etiquette now more accessible to Filipino readers

By Marjorie A. Alonzo

The Philippines is a country where the concept of "pakikisama" (getting along) is deeply ingrained in the culture. It is a value that is often passed down from generation to generation, and it is a key to understanding the Filipino way of life. The book "The Filipino's Guide to Good Manners" is a comprehensive guide to the art of "pakikisama" and is a must-read for anyone who wants to understand the Filipino way of life.

JOSÉ - Fly Reporter

Chapter 1: Loud Noise in the Park

Warning: Can be loud. Read at your own risk.

José the fly reporter was on his way to the park to report on the latest news. He was flying over the trees and bushes when he heard a loud noise. He landed on a branch and looked around. He saw a group of children playing in the park. They were laughing and running around. José was surprised by the loud noise. He had never heard anything like that before. He decided to report on it. He took out his notepad and pen and started writing. He wrote about the loud noise and how it made him feel. He also wrote about the children who were playing in the park. He finished his report and put it in his bag. He then flew back to his home to read it.

Power of the graying world

As the population of the world grows, the number of elderly people is also increasing. This is a trend that is expected to continue in the future. The elderly population is becoming a significant part of the world's population, and it is important to understand the challenges they face. One of the main challenges is the lack of social security and healthcare. Many elderly people do not have enough money to live on, and they often do not have access to the healthcare they need. This is a problem that needs to be solved, and it is the responsibility of the government and society as a whole to ensure that the elderly are taken care of.

It's never too late for that college diploma

For many students, the college years are a time of discovery and growth. But for some, the path to a college diploma is not a straight line. It's a journey that often involves setbacks, delays, and a lot of hard work. The good news is that it's never too late to start. Many students have successfully completed their college degrees after taking a gap year or two, or even after working full-time for several years. The key is to stay motivated and committed to your goals.

One of the biggest challenges for students who return to college after a long absence is catching up on coursework. However, many schools offer remedial classes or allow students to take a lighter course load initially. It's important to talk to your academic advisor about your options and to seek out support from your peers and faculty.

Another common concern is the cost of tuition and living expenses. While it's true that college can be expensive, there are many ways to make it more affordable. Look for scholarships, grants, and part-time job opportunities. Many schools also offer financial aid packages for students who demonstrate financial need.

Finally, it's important to remember that college is not just about academics. It's also a time to explore your interests, develop your skills, and build your network. Take advantage of the resources available to you, such as career counseling, internships, and extracurricular activities. College is a chance to shape your future, and it's never too late to start.

UP awarded for its Faculty Welfare Program
The University of the Philippines (UP) has been awarded the 2008 Faculty Welfare Award by the Philippine Association of Universities and Colleges (PAUC). This recognition is a testament to the university's commitment to its faculty and its efforts to improve their quality of life. The award was presented to UP President Jose Ma. Sison during a ceremony at the UP Diliman campus.

A Graduate Institute II to be set up
The Graduate Institute II, a new academic unit of the University of the Philippines, is set to be established in the near future. This institute will focus on providing advanced graduate-level education in various fields, including science, technology, and the arts. It is expected to enhance the university's research and academic capabilities.

MDGH's stronger position for North-Central
The Manila Doctors Group Hospital (MDGH) has strengthened its position in the North-Central region of the Philippines. Through strategic partnerships and investments, MDGH has expanded its network of hospitals and clinics, providing better access to healthcare for the local population. The group's commitment to quality care and innovation continues to drive its growth.

CHL progresses recruiting men and women
The Commission on Higher Education (CHED) has made significant progress in recruiting men and women to various academic programs. This initiative aims to promote gender equality and ensure that all students have access to quality education. CHED has implemented several measures to attract and support students, including scholarship programs and mentorship initiatives.

MCCH's Youth Teach-Relay at Rizal Area
The Manila Children's Charity Hospital (MCCH) has successfully completed its Youth Teach-Relay program in the Rizal area. This program involves training and deploying young medical professionals to provide healthcare services in underserved communities. The initiative has received positive feedback from the local residents and the participating students.

Asia has long been home of young Filipino leaders

For many years, Asia has been a crucible for young Filipino leaders. From the early days of the Philippine Revolution to the present, the continent has provided a platform for these leaders to showcase their talents and leadership skills. Many of the most prominent figures in Philippine history, including Benigno Aquino Jr., Corason Aquino, and Ferdinand Marcos, were trained and honed in Asia. This tradition continues today, with many young leaders studying and working in Asia, bringing back valuable experiences and knowledge to their home country.

University of Asia and the Pacific, with support

The University of Asia and the Pacific (UAP) has received significant support from various stakeholders, including the government, private sector, and international organizations. This support has enabled UAP to expand its academic programs, improve its infrastructure, and enhance its research capabilities. The university remains committed to providing a high-quality education and fostering the development of its students. The support from these various groups is a testament to the university's impact and its role in the community.

SH introduces very own Center of Arts

SH (St. Ignace College - Manila) has introduced its very own Center of Arts, a dedicated space for students to explore their creative talents. The center offers a variety of art programs, including painting, sculpture, and digital arts. It also hosts regular exhibitions and performances, providing students with a platform to showcase their work. The Center of Arts is a testament to the school's commitment to a well-rounded education and the development of its students' artistic abilities.

The Center of Arts at SH is a vibrant hub of creativity and innovation. It provides students with the resources and support they need to pursue their artistic interests. From workshops and classes to exhibitions and performances, the center offers a wide range of opportunities for students to engage with the arts. The school's dedication to the arts is evident in the high quality of the programs and the enthusiasm of the students.

Growing old gracefully

By the time you are 65, you have lived about 25 years of your life. That's a long time to live, and it's a long time to live well.

THE IMPORTANCE of good old age is becoming more and more apparent. The elderly are becoming a larger part of our population.

From 2000 to 2010, the number of people aged 65 and older in the United States grew by 1.5 million. By 2020, the number is expected to grow by 3.5 million. That's a lot of people.

As the number of elderly people grows, so does the need for services to help them. The federal government is expected to spend $1.2 trillion on social security and Medicare in 2010. That's a lot of money.
